Window Treatments

What kind of window fashions do you offer?

Every window is unique and requires a custom fit. So whether it is the most fashionable design, or only for function, privacy and light control, we offer a wide variety of products for you.

How do we know what my window will look like when complete?

When we visit your home, we will bring photos, samples of different styles and fabrics depending on what your needs require. Together we come up with a plan that works for your investment and taste.

How much is a good budget for my windows?

Rule of Thumb is usually a $1000 per window.

Why so much? Drapery is not always so simple. It's fabric engineering! The mechanics behind the hardware, required fabrics, lining, trimmings and other details, take special care to fabricate. If the project requires significantly more fabric length or mechanics, it may cost more. Or it may even have pretty trim details, intricate fabrics or built to draw attention.

Generally, drapery panels with hardware are typically more expensive. But, when building a window, with treatments like a Roman shade, woven or wood blinds and pretty toppers like valances, it is adding multiple layers that can be costly. Usually smaller windows, just adding shades or valance can cost less, but it can be the special details that add up. Keep in mind, when we quote, all your deliveries, shipping and installation are included.

What is your process? When can I expect to see the project done ?

Every project is unique. Building a window is never an easy process. Most of our vendors work at a steady pace of 2 to 4 weeks. We try to get your windows installed shortly after delivery. Custom products in premium quality materials, with professional installation will always create a final and exceptional look.
